Inspection findings

Effectiveness of leadership and management is outstanding

The arrangements for safeguarding are effective. Staff are vigilant about children's safety and have an excellent understanding of child protection and wider safeguarding issues. Staff are totally committed to keeping children and their families safe. Children complete their own risk assessments with the help of Candyfloss the toy zebra. They learn about fire drills, home safety and making safe choices in a fun and enjoyable environment. The management team implements extremely robust recruitment and induction procedures to maintain exceptional levels of practice and to ensure staff's suitability. Staff receive focused supervisory meetings, where they receive detailed feedback on their practice. They access a wide range of training carefully tailored to support staff and enhance the learning and care of children they work with. The management team accurately evaluates the quality of the nursery and has plans in place to sustain the excellent teaching.

Quality of teaching, learning and assessment is outstanding

Babies are motivated to explore their environment. They have great fun as they feel, smell and touch natural materials. For example, babies enjoy printing with broccoli and carrots in the paint. Toddlers show high levels of concentration as they build towers and match the colours of the bricks. Staff successfully plan and carry out exciting and imaginative activities with high levels of challenge for all children. Older children develop their passion for reading books. For example, they gather twigs and branches to make the witch's broomstick after listening to a familiar story. Children develop their social skills as they take turns and share with others. They plan, negotiate and problem solve for themselves when carrying out the activities.

Personal development, behaviour and welfare are outstanding

Staff place high priority on getting to know children and their families and celebrating their uniqueness. For example, children find countries on the world map where their families have come from and share their cultures and beliefs. Staff speak gently to babies, providing reassurance. They enjoy cuddles from attentive staff. This helps them to feel happy and settled. Behaviour within the nursery is exemplary. Children's health and physical development are promoted exceptionally well. They flourish and thoroughly enjoy time spent outdoors. Staff make sure this environment is equally rich in learning experiences. Children enjoy an excellent variety of freshly prepared, nutritionally balanced meals each day. Individual dietary needs and preferences are successfully met.

Outcomes for children are outstanding

Children make the best possible start and gain outstanding skills for their future learning. They are exceptionally well motivated and excited to learn. Children show higher levels of development than expected, listen attentively and participate well, following instructions from staff. They are all very confident in social situations and know and understand to ask for help if needed.
